50 YOUNGSTERS
STILL NEEDED
FOR UM ART CLASSES

MISSOULA--

Approximately 50 youngsters still are needed to fill the children's art classes being conducted Saturday mornings at the University of Montana.

Richard B. Reinholtz, an associate professor of art at UM and program director, said he would like as many local children as possible to benefit by attending the Saturday classes, which will be conducted for the next seven weeks.

Preschool and high school students are eligible to participate in the program from 9:30-11:30 a.m. each Saturday in the UM Fine Arts Building.

There is a special section for advanced students.

A variety of media including sculpture, photography, drawing, painting, print making and film making will be used.

A $4 fee will cover all expenses. Further information may be obtained from the art department, telephone 243-4181, or by phoning Reinholtz at 243-2781.
